Millennium Development Goals, a challenge to the scientific and development practitioners community in the Netherlands

DPRN, Utrecht, under the responsibility of Ton Dietz, scientific director of CERES, and member of the DPRN Task Force

Version 7 September 2005
Preface

Although many people contributed, this inventory can never be complete, and fully up-to-date. I apologise beforehand for omissions and mistakes. But I hope this inventory is useful to enable more and better contacts between all people in the Netherlands, who are involved in ‘knowledge for development’.

It is the intention that this inventory will regularly be updated. If you have any additions or corrections, please send an email to c.muilwijk@fss.uu.nl scientific director of CERES, the research school for resource studies for development, and member of the DPRN Task Force.

Introduction

Like many other international development agencies, DGIS, part of the Dutch Ministry of Foreign Affairs, has adopted the Millennium Development Goals as its prime ‘driving force’, and the current Dutch Minister for Development Cooperation, Agnes van Ardenne, has selected four specific parts of the MDGs for particular Dutch emphasis: (parts of) goals 2, 5, 6, and 7. She is stimulating more, and more fruitful contacts with the Dutch scientific and practitioners community, after ten years of rather problematic relationships. DGIS is currently promoting an ‘IS (international development) Academe’, linking parts of DGIS with specific Dutch research centres, and again the MDGs are given a prominent place. RAWOO was asked to make an inventory of the Dutch research community dealing with ‘development’, and to add an interpretation of strengths and weaknesses. The RAWOO inventory lists a large number of knowledge centres, organized according to scientific domains1.

Also WOTRO wants to develop its partnership with DGIS (DGIS currently is the major funding agency for WOTRO), and the WOTRO Board recently decided that it is important to stimulate a further contribution of the Dutch research community to the MDGs. But it is important to ask the following strategic questions:

- Where in the Netherlands can one find high-quality knowledge centres for each of the specific MDGs?
- What are strengths and weaknesses in the Dutch knowledge infrastructure to achieve the MDGs?
- What are the existing funding arrangements, and what will be the focus of the IS academe?
- What are specific niches in the Netherlands, where Dutch scientists can support high-quality research of major social relevance for the achievement of the MDGs.

The recent RAWOO inventory does not explicitly relate each of the MDG targets with the knowledge network in the Netherlands, and it does not give information about persons. This inventory does. It can be used as input in the current debates.

Below we list the MDGs, also showing the ways in which the goals, targets and indicators are currently specified by the UN (see http://www.developmentgoals.org), and we indicate the relevant scientific expertise available at Dutch universities and other knowledge centres. Where it is relevant, current research schools are also mentioned.

2 In RAWOO’s recent Advisory Report on the Dutch knowledge infrastructure in the field of international development “Mobilizing knowledge to achieve the Millennium Development Goals” (Netherlands Development Assistance Research Council, RAWOO, The Hague, July 2005, see www.rawoo.nl), the Council writes: “In terms of the available capacity and expertise, some of the fields in which Dutch development-related research has much to offer in relation to the MDGs are: research in the area of agricultural production, food security and nutrition (MDG1); research on poverty-related diseases (malaria, TB, HIV/AIDS, health systems and reproductive health (MDG6); research on natural resources management, water, biodiversity, and climate change (MDG7); and research on North-South interface issues related to trade, aid and finance (MDG8). Research capacity in these areas refers to a broad array of disciplines, including the natural and life sciences, technical sciences, environmental sciences and the social sciences. Some of the fields in which Dutch development-related research has less to offer in relation to the MDGs …are: education (MDG2), gender issues (MDG3), child health (MDG4), maternal health/safe motherhood (MDG5) and some of the targets related to the global partnership for development (MDG8). Education clearly stands out as a neglected area in Dutch research; although it reanks among the highest policy priorities, research expertise on educational issues is extremely weak…and…has almost disappeared”.

Although the MDgoal has a broad formulation (and is about “gender and development”), the MDtarget shows a major restriction to education only; it partly overlaps with goal 2 as far as primary education is concerned, but it adds secondary education. However, the last two indicators under target 4 are much broader again. Therefore, we will add a domain ‘gender and development’ here.

10 Among contraceptive methods, only condoms are effective in preventing HIV transmission. Since the condom use rate is only measured among women in union, it is supplemented by an indicator on condom use in high-risk situations (indicator 19a) and an indicator on HIV/AIDS knowledge (indicator 19b). Indicator 19c (contraceptive prevalence rate) is also useful in tracking progress in other health, gender, and poverty goals.

Target 8: Have halted by 2015 and begun to reverse the incidence of malaria and other major diseases

Indicators
21. Prevalence and death rates associated with malaria
22. Proportion of population in malaria-risk areas using effective malaria prevention and treatment measures

12 This indicator is defined as the percentage of 15- to 24-year-olds who correctly identify the two major ways of preventing the sexual transmission of HIV (using condoms and limiting sex to one faithful, uninfected partner), who reject the two most common local misconceptions about HIV transmission, and who know that a healthy-looking person can transmit HIV. However, since there are currently not a sufficient number of surveys to be able to calculate the indicator as defined above, UNICEF, in collaboration with UNAIDS and WHO, produced two proxy indicators that represent two components of the actual indicator. They are the percentage of women and men ages
23. Prevalence and death rates associated with tuberculosis
24. Proportion of tuberculosis cases detected and cured under directly observed treatment short course (DOTS)

Appendix 2:
Support for capacity building, and the study of higher education:

In Enschede there is a specialized Centre for Higher Education Policy Studies (University Twente, CHEPS)

Until 2004 NUFFIC (with DGIS funds) supported capacity development of research and training institutes in 11 countries in the so-called MHO programme:

The 11 MHO-partners in the developing countries were:

in Africa
- Burkina Faso: Université d'Ouagadougou
- Eritrea: University of Asmara
- Kenya: Moi University
- Mozambique: Universidade Eduardo Mondlane
- South-Africa: Technikon Northern Gauteng
- Tanzania: University of Dar es Salaam

in Asia
- India: Cochin University of Science and Technology
- Philippines: University of San Carlos
- Vietnam: Can Tho University

in Latin America
- Bolivia: Universidad Mayor de San Simon
- Costa Rica: Universidad Nacional

The Dutch Institutes for International Education had their own programme (SAIL), and also the Institutes for Professional Education had their programme for capacity development in developing countries (HOB projects). Recently these three programmes were merged.

In June 2002, three new Dutch international education programmes were launched: the Netherlands Fellowship Programme – Academic Programme (NFP-AP), the Netherlands Fellowship Programme – Training Programme (NFP-TP) and the Netherlands Programme for Institutional Strengthening of Post-Secondary Education and Training Capacity (NPT). The new programmes will be phased in gradually, while the old international education programmes have been phased out before the end of 2004.

Until June 2005 the NPT programme managed by NUFFIC adopted 67 projects for capacity development in 11 countries

In the following list all current NPT experience is listed, together with (recent) past experience of MHO, SAIL and HOB projects.

Appendix 3: history of this inventory

DPRN (the Development Policy Review Network) was started in 2004 to create more synergy between Dutch scientists, both in academia and in other knowledge centres, and Dutch development practitioners. Its administrative 'hub' is at the Research School CERES, but partners in the network go much beyond CERES. In 2004 a Task Force was formed to stimulate activities. Chair: Jan Donner (KIT). Secretary: Paul Hoebink (CIDIN). Other members of the Task Force are: Ton Dietz and Lolita van Toledo (representing CERES), Paul Engel (ECDPN), Mariecke van der Glas (ICCO), Jan Grayers (Pax Christi), Johan van de Gronden (SNV), André Leliveld (ASC), Martin de Graaf (Arcadis), and Nico van Niekerk (DGIS IOB).

In 2004 DGIS-DCO accepted a proposal by DPRN-CERES to start the organization of regular regional expert meetings for 13 world regions, and a website global-connections.nl. Mirjam Ros-Tonen and Caroline Mulwijck were appointed to co-ordinate these activities.

The next activity would be to stimulate a debate about the usefulness of the Dutch knowledge sector for the attainment of the Millennium Development Goals. The Minister for Development Co-operation and DGIS in general are looking for new ways to bridge a gap with Dutch 'development researchers'. RAWOO was asked to make an inventory of knowledge centres. WOTRO/NWO is busy reformulating its strategy, with more attention for the MDGs. It was decided to organize a debate about 'MDGs and Dutch science', which could also play a role in debates in WOTRO and DGIS (and elsewhere in 'development circles'). As a first step, it was thought useful to make an inventory of Dutch knowledge centres and scientists (in and outside academia) per MDG target. Ton Dietz is coordinating this activity.

Before April 8, 2005: first concept made by Ton Dietz, making use of his own information as CERES director and beyond, and of a recent inventory of opinions of key scientists in the Netherlands about strengths and weaknesses in Dutch development-related research, made by Mirjam Ros-Tonen for RAWOO, and used with permission by Gerti Hesseling and Ed Maan, (chair and secretary RAWOO).

April 8, first concept discussed with Martin Kropff (chair WOTRO), Renee van Kessel (director WOTRO), Judith Kroon and Gerrie Tuitert (staff WOTRO)

April 11, this first concept, with introduction, sent to colleagues in WOTRO Board, with request to add and correct before April 20

April 12, this concept, with different introduction, sent to all senior members of CERES with request to add and correct before April 20

April 12-28: responses from Han Aarts (for Maastricht University), Alberto Arce (WUR), Karin Arts (ISS), Isa Baud (UvA), Michiel Baud (for CEDLA), Maarten Bavinck (UvA), Arjun Bedi (ISS), Pieter Boele van Hensbroek (for CDS RUG), Paul Burgers (UU), Heidi Dahles (UU, for COM), Henk Driessen (RU), Meine Pieter van Dijk (UNESCO-IHE), Geske Dijkstra (EUR), Sjaak van der Geest (UvA), Leo de Haan (for ASC), Mariette de Haan (UU), Paul Hebinck (WUR), Pieter Boele van Hensbroek (UU, for COM), Kees Leeuwis (WUR, for Mansholt Institute), Cees Leenwis (WUR), Robert Lensink (RUG), Rico Lie (WUR), Paul van Lindert (for IDS-UU), Birgit Meyer (UvA), Toon van Meijl (RU), Mansoob Murshed, Ton van Naerssen (RU), Barbara Oomen (UvA), Lee Pegler (ISS), Paul Richards (WUR), Ton Robben (UU), Oscar Salemink (RU), Nico Schulte Nordholt (UT), Rob Vos (ISS), Claudius van de Vijver (WUR, for Martin Kropff, Ken Giller and PE&RC), Joop de Wit (ISS), Annelies Zoomers (CEDLA)

From April 29 onwards: RAWOO inventory (made by Eduard Jansen): information from overview added (see footnote in the introduction)

May and June: New concept sent to members of DPRN, additional responses from Frans Bongers (WUR), Jacques van der Gaag (AIID), Gemma van der Haar (for UU CCS), Jan-Willem Gunning (AIID), Pieter van der Zaag (for UNESCO-IHE Delft), Johan van Dijk (for ISS), Johan van de Gronden (SNV), Paul Sijssens (CDP), Frans Verberne (ETC), Joep Houterman/Ad Boeren/Jos
Walenkamp (NUFFIC), Willeke Steenis (for DGIS DCO), Fre Pepping (for VLAG), Edith van Ewijk (information about habitat), Pieter van Stuyvenberg (Arcadis), Mirjam Ros-Tonen (about Partos, and One World)
Websites were also consulted and information included, see appendix 4
After June 28 (DPRN Meeting about MDGs and Research, at the CERES summerschool) additional responses were received and additions and corrections made to this version, which was finalized on September 7, 2005.

If you have any additions or corrections: please inform: ceres@fss.uu.nl, and add: DPRN inventory MDGs
