

Wiebke Dalhoff

Works at the International Federation of Library Associations and Institutions (IFLA). Working as IFLA's Policy Officer, Wiebke develops and coordinates policy and advocacy initiatives. Before joining IFLA, she worked in the field of publishing and communications with IFRRO, the International Federation of Reproduction Rights Organisations, FEP, the Federation of European Publishers, and also coordinated the communications and press activities of TUV NORD Group, a German technical service provider, in the field of international relations, education and human resources. Wiebke studied Culture and Media Management in Hannover and Hamburg/Germany.