

Some errors in writing resulting from similarity of some Hieratic signs

Salah el-Kholy

---

Among the interesting and curious things a scholar may encounter while dealing with some ancient Egyptian documents, are the writing errors, which are done sometimes by the ancient scribe in some texts.

This can occasionally occur when he adds some unnecessary signs inward, or when he replaces a personal pronoun with another.