

دراسة لمضمون مجموعة من نصوص الإنشاء والتجديد بمساجد وجوامع مدينة ماغنيسا في العصرين الصاروخاني والعثماني

Foundation and Renovation Inscriptions in Magnesia Mosques in Sarokhan and Ottoman Periods

تامر مختار *

Abstract

The city of Magnesia is one of the oldest historical cities in western Anatolian region, and was the rural capital of western Anatolia, it was once called 'Magainisa', the city flourished during the sarokhan and Ottoman periods, and the in the Ottoman era was known as the city of Shahzada, because it was a training center for ottoman crown princes. It was a very important city, so the architectural activities flourished during the sarokhan and Ottoman periods, and during those periods numerous of structures were constructed and decorated with foundational and renewal texts and Prayer statements.

The city of Magnesia includes a huge number of Islamic Monuments from sarokhan and Ottomans periods, varied between: 'mosques, schools, baths, (caravansery) and Takaya', a lot of them still in its original condition, and some of them had restored

This paper aims to study foundations and renovation inscriptions in Magnesia mosques of sarokhan and Ottoman periods.